SUGAR TRUST TESTIMONY ALL IN.

THE DEED OF UNION PRODUCED IN COURT-BRIEFS WILL BE SUBMITTED ON MONDAY. The hearing on the application of the Brooklyn Sugar Refining Company for dissolution, which is opposed by J. A. Taylor, was continued before Justice Callen yesierday. On the assurance of the Court tast it should in no other case be used against the Interests of his clients, John E. Parsons produced the deed of union, which showed that the Brooklyn Sugar Refining Company and an interest of $1,250,-DOO in the $50,000,000 certificates of the old Sugar Trust. H. O. Havemeyer testified that he was president of the company, and also of the American Sugar Refineries Company. He admitted that prior to Norember 30, 1887, Mr. Taylor held fifty shares of stock and $20,000 of bonds of the company, and that in place of them be received 454 sugar certificates. of these, 15 per cent was allowed to remain with the trustres, under the deed of union, and 195 were held by the officers of the Brooklyn Company, who were to receive the dividends in place of salaries.

Mr. Havemeyer said he received no salary as presiint of either company, nor did he expect to. He was asked to produce the books of the Brooklyn Sugar Refining Company, but he said he neither had them nor controlled them. Several witnesses testified that they had given up the trust certificates for stock of the American Sugar Refineries Company. Mr. Blackwell, the counsel for Mr. Taylor, objected to the emittur from the Court of Appenls, declaring the Sugar Trust illegal, being put in evidence. He said at he intended to oppose the dissolution until the company had accounted for its assets, so that his client might get his rights,
Mr. Parsons said he did not object to Mr. Taylor having his rights, but that the action was carried on other purposes. Mr. Blackwell denied this, and Mr. Parsons said he had information on the subject which he would present to the Court at the proper which he would present to the Court at the proper time. He said he did not think the Court would hesitate to decide that Mr. Taylor had no standing in the company. His stock, with his consent, had been marged into the Sugar Trust, and it was agreed that a majority of the stockholders could decide on any other disposition of the business. The majority had agreed to the transfer to the American Sugar Refineries Company, and Mr. Taylor was bound by it. The testimony was finished yesterday, and briefs are to be submitted on Monday next.

EACH SEEMINGLY AFRAID OF THE OTHER. JUSTICE TIGHE AND INSPECTOR M'LAUGHLIN IN

HOT DERATE OVER A ROWING CHALLENGE. Police Justice Tighe and Police Inspector McLaughlin are proud of their oarsmanship, and each accuses the other of being afreid to row him and of backing out from the race set for to-day on the Passale River. On Wednesday Judge Tighe met Inspector McLaughlin when they were practising and told him he was too to-day, and asked to have the race postpaned until September 1. The next day the Inspector said that Judge Tighe had backed out and the latter resented it. He sent word to the newspapers that he was ready to row to-day and would be upon the water at the hour agreed upon. He then went to Police Headquarters, where he songht the Inspector, saying he would let him see if Judge Tighe would back down. When the Inspector appeared Judge Tighe followed film into his room, and an excited conversation en-Tighe began it by asking: "Why did you say I backed down !"

"Well, didn't you?"
"No, I did not. I have been willing to row you, but simply asked to have the race put off a few weeks, as I am not in good condition now, and in fact am too sick to row. You had no business to call the race

"Well, you said you would not row. You have put me to a great deal of trouble and expense, and 1 don't think you ever intended to row me." This roused the anger of the Police Justice, and he

"Afraid to row you? I'll show you I'm not afraid. "Alraid to row you? I'll show you I'm not atraid.

I'll row you to morrow afternoon, sick as I am."

But McLaughlin pleaded other engagements, and finally ended the discussion by ord ring Tighe out of his office. Tighe declared he would be at the course tay, and if McLaughlin did not appear he would claim the race.

proper, which is to be of cantilever design, is estimated at $12,000,000. The approaches on the west side, it is thought, can be arranged for without much difficulty and at moderate cost. The plan contemplates the crossing of the river on the New-York side at West Seventleth-st., the approaches to extend to Eleventh-ave., and thence to Thirty-ninth-st. and Broadway, where the elevation from the surface of the street will be only about twelve feet. At this point an immense station is to be constructed, 460 feet wide and about 1,300 feet long, and providing space for twenty tracks and the necessary platforms. The bridge at the highest point will be 150 feet above high water, and it is proposed to make it wide enough for eight tracks, two of which shall be applied to rapid transit service for passengers between New-York City and the New-Jersey shore.

HOW SHE LEARNED OF THE DIVORCE.

A WOMAN'S SUIT FOR ABANDONMENT BRINGS OUT THE FACT THAT SHE IS NOT A WIFE.

Fritz Emmermann, thirty-eight years old, a cook in Fulton-st. restaurant, and living at No. 313 East Fortieth-st., secured a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Mina Emmermann, thirty-seven years old, of No. 1,550 First-ave., on January 30, and the first intimation she had that such was the case was yesterday afternoon, where she faced Emmermann at the Harlem Police Court, where she had him arraigned on the charge of abandon ment. The couple had been married on August 9, 1876, in West Hoboken, and lived happily together until eleven months ago, when according to Mrs. Emmermann her husband left her for a young woman named Ida Zaft, with whom he has since lived. Mrs. Emmermann, falling in getting her husband to return to her, went on a visit to her parents at Wurtspanied by a certified check, as the financial member of the firm was absent. One of the firm, who offered five months. In her absence the decree of divorce was of the firm was absent. One of the firm, who offered the bid, was told by Superintendent Martin that it was useless to submit it without the check, but he was also told that, as the regular meeting for August would not be held, he could correct the informality before the months ago went in search of Fritz. She found him meeting at which the bids would be opened. So the check was secured and put in later.

When the meeting was held Mr. Martin and President Wagsiaff found that an error had been made in permitting the Taylor bid to be put in after the time for mitting the Taylor bid to be put in after the time for mitting the Taylor bid selessed, and rejected it. Mr. Taylor may take steps to test whether the award was legal, on the ground that a quorum was not present at the meeting.

I months ago went in search of Fritz. She found him only a week ago at his work in the restaurant at No. 148 Fulton-st., but he refused to talk to her. She then determined to have him arrested for abandoment, and she secured a warrant from Justice Welde, at the Harlem Court on Wednesday. Emmermann was arrested while at his work at noon yesterday, by Court officer Brady, who produced him in court in the after.

When Fritz and his former wife met in the courtroom he said: "You are no longer my wife. divorced from you." Mrs. Emmermann said "It can't be legal. I never was served with any papers." On learning the date of the granting of the divorce she said Why, I was in Germany then." She swore that the divorce was secured by perjured evidence, and said divorce was secured by perjured evidence, and said
"I was plways a faithful wife to him." When told that a man named Alex Treiber, of No. 138 orsyth-st., had

olm P. Murray, Martin J. Flynn and Oliver B. John D. Egan and John Stumpf, the seventh batch of onvicted "ballot-box stuffers," were up for sentence yesterday morning. Judge Lippincott sentenced Murray, McGrath and Egan to eighteen months' imprisonment each at State Prison, which is the same sentence imposed in all previous cases. The Judge said that in the cases of Stumpf, Stringham and Flynn, who were recommended to mercy by the juries, that he would give his decision some time in the coming week. Writs of error were taken out for the sentenced men.

APPROPRIATIONS ON THE INCREASE. The Finance Commissioners have fixed the approoriations for the coming fiscal year at $2,034,259. The amount to be reserved for State, school, railroad and canal taxes is $305,544, which leaves the net amount required $1,688,715. This will be $164,699 less than called for last year. The gross amount is a quarter of a million more than last year's appropria-tion. Of this the Street and Water Commissioners receive $181,800, the Aldermen $57,250, the Police Com missioners $391,187, the Fire Commissioners $143,600, the Board of Education $25,950, the Free Library Commissioners $44,754.07, the Tax Commissioners $17,900, and the Board of Finance $920,819.47.

NEWARK. YEARS OF SILENCE BETWEEN HUSBAND AND WIFE.

Oscar F. Barton, freight solicitor for the Baltimore and Oldo Ratiroad Company, who was arrested in Newark early in the week on a charge of deserting his wife, Mary A. Barton, had a hearing in the police court at Newark yesterday afternoon. The couple had been living in Brooklyn and have two married children, son and a daughter. Mr. Barton is nearly seventy and the wife fifty-five. Both were present at the hearing yesterday with the son and daughter and counsel. Mrs. Barton testified that sile was abso-Intely destitute. Her husband had a salary of $200 a nonth and owned a patent medicine.

In 1876, she said, her husband, when asked for noney to provide food, became angry and left her room and did not speak to her until 1884. In the sam year they broke up housekeeping and Barton allowed her a small sum for clothing and paid her board. In October, 1886, he refused to support the family any longer and she brought suit in February, 1887, in Brooklyn, by which he had to pay $10 weekly. June 1 of this year he refused to advance the allowance and she had him brought into court, but it decided it had no jurisdiction. Mr. Barton owned a house at Belleville, worth $5,000, and a small house in Woodside.

On cross-examination the woman acknowledged that she got $2,500 from the sale of a property in Brooklyn. She received from $15,000 to $16,000 from her parents' estate in 1874. Her husband, the witness said, was willing to make the allowance of $10 a week if she signed a mortgage on the Belleville property, but she was afraid of losing her dower right. When asked why she did not go to the Woodside house to live, she answered that her life would not be safe there. Pressed for an explanation, she said her husband used o poison cats and dogs about the house. One day in the kitchen she caught him putting poison in a glass of milk she was to drink. She charged him with it and he tossed the milk into the sink, saying "You

Mr. Berton testified that he had lived with Mrs. Mr. Barien testified that he had lived with Mrs. Barien as her husband until 1876, and after that only under the same roof. He paid the bills and had the receipts to prove it. 'His wife had retused to spend any money on his property, saying she would starve first. She spent all her money in brokers' olices, and was in the habit of staying out late. He remonstrated with her and she said to him "I will go with those I love more than you." The woman, he said, was uncontrollable. He denied her principal statements.

CLIFTON.

A BRIDE OF TWO MONTHS KILLS HERSELF. Mrs. Henry Kaufman, aged twenty-eight, who with er husband, a carpenter, lived near the Clifton race track, committed suicide on Thursday by taking a dose of Paris green. The cause is supposed to have 5een unreasonable jealousy of her husband, to whom she was married in June at Brighton Beach. Both were Jermans. The young people seemed happy and Kauf man was apparently a good husband; but Mrs, Kauf man was intensely jealous, and seemed to suspect him of an intention to desert her. She asked him to bring their marriage certificate from Erighton Beach, where t had been left with friends, and he went to get it on Wednesday. He did not return that night, and his wife told her suspicions to Mrs. John Weller, the landlady, who tried to allay them.

Kaufman returned on Thursday morning and hi wife seemed much relieved and allowed him to go to Passale in search of work. A short time after he lett the house Mrs. Weller went upstairs in responsrepeated calls and found Mrs. Kaufman lying on a bed. she said she had taken Paris green and did not wish to live. The young woman died soon afterward in great agony. An examination of the premises re-vealed the fact that she had made preparations to die on Wednesday night, and her husband's return on Thursday had not turned her from her purpose.

RAHWAY.

IT WAS CHOLERA MORBUS, NOT RABIES. George Frank, the blacksmith's helper, who died at Rahway on Thursday afternoon, was a victim of cholera morbus, which was superinduced by the exuse of nicohol. Dr. Charles Oliver, who at tended the man before his death, says his constitution as broken down by dissipation, and that the final collapse was bound to come in a short time, anyway, Dr. Oliver does not believe that the fear of hydrophobia had anything to do with Frank's death, though he says that the whole neighborhood in which Frank lived was alarmed.

Frank was an inveterate drinker, and time and time the fittle German had been confined in the police station and county jail on account of his ponce station and county just on account of his fondness for drink. He had always been known in his meighborhood as a great scole and grumbler, and it is said this habit was so fixed and in grumbling so incessant that Mrs. Frank could have easily mistaken her husband's grumbling for the growt of rables. The dector says that Frank had betting convolsions, had he had been a convolsions, her the aread of water. He died in the second stage of cholera marbus.

Dr. Robert Taylor, president of the Board of Health, has made his report for the three months ending July 1. The most interesting feature in the report is the low rate of mortality. The population is about 13,000, and only thirty-seven deaths occurred during the three months covered by the report. Of these, twenty-six died at the New-York Infant Asylum and one at the Wurtburg-Lieuw-Hork Infant Asylum and one at the Wurtburg-Lieuw

THE GOLD EXPORT MOVEMENT.

SHIPMENT OF $1,500,000 IN COIN TO BE MADE TO-DAY-CURRENCY FOR THE WEST.

The withdrawal of $1,500,000 in gold coin from the Sub-Treasury yesterday for shipment to Europe to-day accentuated the present uncertainty of the export movement. The long-continued drain on the country's sold supply has been an object of wonder on the treet, where adequate cause for the movement can not be assigned. For weeks it has been the constant xpectancy and prophecy that the movement would cease, but it has continued with only insignificant interruptions. The firms who are principally identified with the gold export movement assert that they regret the necessity" and "hope that each shipment vill be the last," but that the orders from their cus tomers in Europe are absolutely peremptory.

The $1,500,000 of gold taken yesterday was on he order of Lazard Freres. The deposits of currency in the Sub-Treasury yesterday for transfer to Chleago and other Western points amounted to $250,000.

Henry Clews & Company have issued a circular in which the gold export movement is commented on as follows:

On all legitimate grounds, exports of gold should now certainly end, but natural causes for the ebb and now of the precious metal between this country and Europe are ny force thrust on one side by the new plan adapted by Paris, London and Germany to treat in merely as so much merchandise in connection with their dealings with this country, hence the r p.r have at total adapting when the parallel with the part have as the parallel of the p.r. have at the parallel of the p.r. have at the parallel of the p.r. have at the their dealings with this country, hence the r par have as four asking price in the same way as cottoon, wheat, or any other commodity. It is impossible, therefore, to be able to judge how much or how sittle will hereafter be forced out of the country. It is evident that Europe is working on a theory in this matter, which they hope and expect to become a rullity. The idea with them is that, although they extract our gold coin from us at the cost of a premium—and what they have recently here getting has apparently been or ruling has apparently been or ruling has apparently been or ruling has apparently been or resitting has apparently and pay off their obligations to this country in aliver at 120 3s per ounce, and make the difference between 46 peace (London price) and 123-3s (United Sites Government price). For this reason, although caying dearly for the gold now, they consider it will be cheap in the event of free silver becoming a law.

MINES WORKING FULL TIME.

Wilhesburre, Penn., July 24.-The Nottingham Col-Bery of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company, at Plymouth, is now producing 2.500 tons a day of nin hours' work, and the anthracite collieries of the Wyoming region are generally running on full time, so that the month will be an excellent one. There is now no strike or islor trouble at any of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre collieries.
